My Christmas Tree

On Christmas morning when I awake, and sleep-dust from my eyes I shake, I see a sight, that makes me start and causes thumpings in my heart! A Christmas tree, pretty sight—with candles, bells and balls alight. With horns and dolls and sugar plums, and snakes and trains and beating drums. And oh, it is a wonder-tree, with heaps of things from the side, which I can't hide. A soldier-doll, a doll house, too, and strings of gold come to my view, and as I look I seem to hear sweet Christmas music soft and clear. A Merry Christmas it seems to say, A merry, happy, holy day!

NO PEACE

Until Belgian Wrongs Righted—President's Successor at Princeton Points Out Duty of Neutrality.

Baltimore, Md., December 22—Deportation of Belgians by Germany was strongly decried at a mass meeting here tonight, called on protest against the action. Dr. John Grier Hibben, president of Princeton University, declaring it to be a "crime against the progressive civilization of the world," insisted that there should not be a discussion of the possibility of peace, "until Germany had given to Belgium and the world some definite assurance that the undeserved wrongs of that death-stricken country are righted."

Dr. Hibben said that it was the duty of the neutral nations to promote peace.

"But while recognizing this obligation," he said, "I would point out a higher and more imperative duty of neutrality. It is to insist with all the spirit of an aroused national conscience that there must be a vindication of certain rights and reparation of certain wrongs that have been done with a high hand upon a stupendous scale and upon a world stage."

MRS. HECUBA SEDDEN

Mrs. Hecuba Sedden died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Stitt at Covington, Ky., Friday morning at 5 o'clock. Mrs. Sedden was born in Mayaville in 1847, being 69 years of age at the time of her death. Her husband preceded her to the grave about 35 years ago. She is survived by three children, Mrs. John Stitt of Covington, Mrs. Lucy Tucker of Brilliants, Mont., and Mrs. George Sedden of this country. She also leaves one brother, Mr. William Wise of this city and one sister, Miss Catharine Wise of Cincinnati. The body will arrive in this city this afternoon and will be taken directly to the cemetery for burial. Services will be conducted by Rev. J. M. Literal.

CHRISTMAS ENTERTAINMENT AT BAPTIST CHURCH

The Sunday School of the First Baptist Church will have their Xmas entertainment Saturday evening, December 23, at 7 o'clock. The program committee has been hard at work for several weeks teaching the little folks, and a program of songs, recitations and drills will be given.

The choir will sing Christmas songs, consisting of solos, and duets. Old Santa Claus will be present to distribute presents from the Christmas tree.

All are requested to bring a pound of something good to eat which will be turned over to the City Mission for distribution.

EMPLOYEES REMEMBERED

Mr. A. D. Troxel of Portsmouth, superintendent of the Western and Southern Life Insurance Co., spent the day in this city yesterday with local force and held a very interesting meeting in the company's offices in the First-Standard Bank building. While here he presented each of the company's employees with a beautiful gold penknife as a gift of the year. The local office is making a great record in the matter of selling insurance, this being brought about under the efficient management of Mr. J. H. Randolph, local superintendent.

SOME RUSH

This work now being done at the local Post office is enormous, all of the clerks being compelled to work overtime. The cause of the rush the larger number of Christmas packages and Christmas greetings being sent through the mail. Several extra clerks have been added to the regular force. The mail coming from some of the trains passing through here is so large that two wagons are required to haul the same.

All persons in the county and city that are desirous of obtaining a copy of the new taxation law may have the same by asking Hon. Harry Purnell for a copy.

Practice up for Smittie's Hand, at the Princess Rink. Watch for the date.

Mr. Thomas D. Stattary of Covington was a visitor in this city yesterday.

Mr. Speed G. Hibberd is steadily improving at the hospital.

BETHLEHEM PLANT

To Be Burned Over to United States in Case of War, Say Charles M. Schwab.

New York, December 22—If the United States should enter war, the munitions plant of the Bethlehem Steel Company, greater than the famous Krupp works at Essen, Germany, would be turned over to the uses of this Government, Charles M. Schwab, president of the company, said in addressing members of the Lotus Club. With a capacity of 1,000,000 rounds of heavy ammunition a month, Schwab said, his plant was 50 per cent more efficient than the Krupp works. He characterizes it as one of the greatest preparedness assets of the United States.

"I am an optimist," he said, speaking of peace. "Some see disaster if peace comes, but I look upon peace as a blessing and I should rejoice in it if it came. But we want a conclusive peace and not a peace which will merely postpone another war."

Admitting that the Bethlehem industrial world is to meet strenuous competition when peace comes, Schwab said he felt this country would be able to meet any competition and urged a greater American marine as one of the means of meeting foreign competition.

Schwab announced that the Bethlehem company had made plans for the erection of a $4,500,000 plant for building sixteen-inch guns for the navy. Federal armor plate plates were attacked by Schwab.

HELD CHRISTMAS ENTERTAINMENT

The Sunday School of the Third Street M. E. Church held its Christmas entertainment in the church last night. Each of the classes of the school was responsible for a number not to exceed five minutes in length. Some of the numbers were excellent, and all had the central thought of Christmas. Following the entertainment a treat was given to the school.

ALL TRAINS LATE

All of the passenger trains on the C. & O. Railroad in the past few days have been very late on account of the heavy travel. Much express and mail is also being carried by these trains which has a tendency to hold them back.

Scarf Pins, Cuff Buttons, Wristbands, Chains, Tie Clasps, Match Safes, Set and Seal Rings.

MURPHY'S JEWELRY STORE

The many friends of Mr. Louis Naden will be glad to hear that he is improving nicely from his recent illness.

Last call for that press you promised for your suit. McNamee will call for it at once Phone 337.

NO LEDGER MONDAY

In pursuance of our usual custom there will be no edition of the Ledger published on Monday. The entire force will receive two days' vacation and all will have plenty of time to prepare for and enjoy Christmas.

MERRY XMAS AT PASTIME

The Pastime wishes you a Merry Xmas and offers for your entertainment on Xmas afternoon and night, Edna Mayo and Eugene O'Brien in "The Chaperone."

WORK THAT TELLS

Plenty of It Has Been Done Right
Here in Maysville.

To thoroughly know the virtues of a medicine you must investigate its work. Doan's Kidney Pills stand this test, and plenty of proof exists right here in Maysville. People who testified years ago to relief from headache, kidney and urinary disorders, now give confirmed testimony—declare the results have lasted. How can any Maysville sufferer longer doubt the evidence?

Henry S. Gallenstein, blacksmith, 124 W. Third St., Maysville, says: "My kidneys were out of order and I had pain through my back. Doan's Kidney Pills put an entire stop to the pain and my kidneys became well." (Statement given January 9, 1912.)

RESULTS THAT REMAIN

OVER FOUR YEARS LATER, on November 14, 1916, Mr. Gallenstein said: "I haven't had any need of a kidney medicine since I last recommended Doan's Kidney Pills. The benefit they gave me has been permanent."

Mr. Gallenstein is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, the same that Mr. Gallenstein has twice publicly recommended—the remedy backed by home testimony. See all stores, Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. "When Your Back Is Lame—Remember the Name."

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of the late Charles T. Marshall, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Marshall, who passed to the great beyond Saturday, November 25th, 1916.

Mr. Marshall's devoted love for his family continued beyond expression. A devoted and faithful husband and father, finding his pleasure in the work God assigned to him. A faithful Christian, being a member of the Lewisburg Baptist Church since his early manhood.

In the social relations of life, where men are most effectively tried, no spot can be detected in him.

He was a patient dutiful reverent son; a generous, compassionate, tender husband; an honest, careful, and most affectionate father. Never was a more virtuous or happier husband than his. The influence of his mighty genius shadowed him imperceptibly; his calm good sense, and his angelic sweetness of heart and temper regulated and softened a strict but paternal discipline.

A high and pure sense of duty preceded over whatever he had to do as a citizen; and as a landlord he considered his estate as an extension of his heart.

Mr. Marshall leaves a faithful and devoted mother, Mrs. Eliza Marshall, and wife who was formerly Miss Little Owens of the county; one son, Mr. Alexander K. Marshall; one sister, Mrs. Mine Marshall Adams of Georgetown, Ky., to mourn his demise. And they are together again in the home God has prepared for us all.

"He cannot die who truly lives.

For virtue has immortal breath.

Tis but the sowing of the grain,

Which blossoms into life again.

And finds perfectness in its death."

We extend our sincere and heartfelt thanks to our relatives, friends, and neighbors for the sympathy and kind expressions of love extended to us in our late sorrow and bereavement in the loss of our dearly beloved husband, father, brother and son.

A FRIEND.

McDuff, Va.—"I suffered for several years," says Mrs. J. B. Whittaker, of her place, "with sick headache, and stomach trouble."

Ten years ago a friend told me to try Thedford's Black-Draught, which I did and I found it to be the best family medicine for young and old.

I keep Black-Draught on hand all the time now, and when my children feel a little bad, they ask me for a dose, and it does them good than any medicine they ever tried.

We never have a long spell of sickness in our family, since we commenced using Black-Draught."

Thedford's Black-Draught is purely vegetable and has been found to regulate weak stomachs, aid digestion, relieve Indigestion, colic, wind, nausea, headache, sick stomach, and similar symptoms.

It has been in constant use for more than 70 years, and has relieved more than a million people.

Your druggist sells and recommends Black-Draught. Price only 25c. Get a package to-day.

WASHINGTON OPERA HOUSE

A CHRISTMAS FABLE

By Mary Graham Bonner

Drawings by Ray Walters

THE snow glistened in the sparkling sunlight. The flakes of snow kept falling, falling. Some stopped to rest on the branches of the pine trees and the little leafless bushes. Some fell straight to the ground and made the snow grow deeper and whiter and softer.

In the center of the woods was a high throne upon which sat a King dressed in red with fur of soft white which looked like snow, and on his head was a crown of gleaming jewels. Around the King sat the Royal Family. There were Princes and Princesses, the Queen and hundreds of pages. The King arose from his throne and spoke: "This is the greatest festival in the year," he said, "and its name is Christmas. It is the day of love and cheer and happiness. We give presents and we are given presents. We think of others and others think of us. It is the day to give! And I, your King, will now begin the celebrations."

The Queen was smiling. Her eyes were full of gladness and the Princes and Princesses were merry and gay.

"The day of giving" they were all saying. "The most glorious day in the year!"

The pages rushed about this way and that, and from afar came the sound of music. The music grew louder and the voices seemed to come from everywhere. From all corners of the world it seemed as if everyone must be singing, and the King and Royal Family joined in the song. No one quite knew what was the name of the song. No one quite knew what the tune might be, but somehow everyone was singing it—for the song was the song of joy and the tune was happiness. And all knew that song, all knew its tune and throughout the world that day there was singing. Some did not know how to sing the words, some did not know how to make the sounds with their voices, but for these there was the music in their hearts—the love in their hearts for all the people under the sun.

But the pages had emptied before the throne packs with many different sorts of presents. And the King was presenting them to the Princes and Princesses. Then came more and more presents, and more and more of the Royal Family appeared. For they were all arriving for the Great Festival. There were hundreds and thousands and they received presents and they gave presents. The singing went on, the music was mingled with laughter and the happy voices of children were heard.

Soon the children came trooping by. They passed before the throne and the King did not seem to frighten them. He did not seem to be a King of whom to be afraid. All his subjects seemed to love him and he seemed to rule with a sceptre of wonderful kindness. And as the children paused before the throne they said in whispers to each other:

"Look! On the throne is carved the words, 'Merry Christmas to all in the world this day!' And on the sceptre is written, 'Love, this is the guide to happiness.'"

And then on a mighty pine tree lights appeared and the snow flakes on the branches changed and drooped down heavily laden with presents.

And the tree spoke too: "I am the Christmas tree. For years and years I have gone into homes each Christmas Day."

There are many trees but we all have the one name—the Christmas tree—and our King bids us go to many a Christmas festival. Our branches hold gifts and candles of different colors to give the bright light of good cheer."

And from all around the children are opening stockings that they had found hanging on low branches, filled with oranges and candies, nuts and toys. While they were dancing and laughing as they opened many mysterious little packages, the King spoke again:

"Good-bye to all," he said. "I will be back for the festival next year. Come my fine animals! Come my gorgeous chariot!"

Jingling of bells was heard—they were the Christmas bells on the Reindeers and up they pranced to take the King to his home far away. For the King was none other than Santa Claus!

And all of a sudden the scene changed and instead of one great throne many homes could be seen—big homes and little homes but in all there was a Queen—the mother of the children whom on Christmas Day Santa Claus calls his Royal Family.

Instead of Princes and Princesses they were all children. Instead of one great tree there were many trees. And in place of the sparkling snow and the woods there were fireplaces and green decorations and bright red berries.

For once a year Santa Claus dreams this dream—this Christmas fable. He sees not the hundreds of homes he has visited. He does not see the different mothers. He does not see the children scattered over the earth. He has been to many homes but to him it is all as one. And it is a true dream, too!

For every Christmas Queen is a mother with love in her heart, and there are the fathers who sit on the throne of Santa Claus on Christmas Day with "A Merry Christmas" inscribed in letters which only the children of Santa's dream can see, but which all the children of the world can feel. And the Royal Family—the Princes and the Princesses—they are all children. Not unusual children, but usual children. They are the children who give joy just because they are children, and they are given pleasure because they too can give.

Yes, all over the world, in hundreds of homes after the visit of Santa Claus there is happiness. And because it is Christmas Day there is cheer and good will. And the gifts that Santa Claus receives are the smiling eyes and the merry voices of children as they shout their delight over the Christmas festival.

He is the King—not of a country, nor of a land—but of a Day, Christmas Day, and his subjects are the Children of the World.

For him there is this fable. He can dream of the joy that is in the hearts of all on Christmas morning, while he is sitting on his throne and his chariot drawn by Reindeers is waiting to take him back home!

DON'T

Handle Your Candle-Lighted
Christmas Trees Recklessly

HERE are a few warnings
that all Christmas celebrants will do well to observe:

Use electric lights instead of candles wherever possible.

Never leave the children
alone with lighted candles.

Remove the curtains when candles are used in windows.

Use asbestos fiber instead of cotton to represent snow.

Use metallic tinsel and not paper on your trees.

Fasten your tree securely,
so it will not tip over.

Remove the tree from the house when the needles become dry.

"LESS THAN THE DUST"

Great Picture Starring Mary Pickford
to Be Shown at the Washington
Opera House on Monday Night
—One Other Picture to Be Shown.

Seldom has there been an announcement of more interest than the one made here yesterday that the managers of the Washington Opera House had secured Mary Pickford in one of her latest releases, "Less Than the Dust," for next Monday night. In addition to this picture of seven reels Clara Kimball Young will be shown in a five reel feature, "The Feast of Life."
The managers of the popular house were greatly disappointed to learn that they could not secure the indoor element but immediately began to make preparations to get pictures for the tear-compelling character to the well-known ability of the little star
for extracting clean and wholesome
fun from the situations provided by
the author.

"Less Than the Dust" is probably one of the most noted stars in the moving picture world and has well earned the appellation of "The darling of the screen."
Her newest and most elaborate play
of her long career is called "Less Than the Dust" and was written especially for her by Hector Turnbull, whose name on manuscript is complete evidence of superlative merit.
He credits his inspiration for the story of "Less Than the Dust" to a poem of the same name written by Laurence Hope.
As developed and elaborated
the play tells the story of a little English eastway who is living in India practically an outcast and regarded by the natives as actually "less than the dust" which they stir up as they walk in her conception of the heroine Miss Pickford takes full advantage of the opportunities offered for the display of the whole range of emotions from tear-compelling characterization to the
well-known ability of the little star
for extracting clean and wholesome
fun from the situations provided by
the author.

"Less Than the Dust" contains many really big scenes, many of which are furnished by an uprising of the natives against England. A complete city was erected for the filming of these scenes, hundreds of extra people were employed and various zoological exhibits were ransacked for the rare animals required to convey the necessary atmosphere.
Pictorial scenes indeed are the settings provided for Mary Pickford and a company of supporting players of high and evenly balanced merit will be seen when "Less Than the Dust"
is presented by Artcraft Pictures Corporation, which was organized especially to distribute the new Mary Pickford pictures throughout the entire world.

TINKER GETS CONTROL OF CO.
LUMBUS CLUB

Columbus, Ohio, December 22—John Tinker, former manager of the Chicago National League Club, tonight arranged to purchase the franchise of the Columbus American Association team for himself and Thomas Wilson, of Chicago.

Tinker announced that a partial payment had been made for the Columbus franchise and that the deal would be completed before January 1.

Tinker and Wilson will pay $65,000 to the Columbus magnates, it was announced. This will give the former Chicago manager and his associates control of 75 per cent of the club's stock. The other 25 per cent will be retained by the present owners.

WILL PREACH

Rev. Earl Wheat, chaplain at the Sewanee Military Institute at Sewanee, Tenn., will preach at the Episcopal Church on Christmas morning. Rev.
Wheat will have a special message on this occasion, and all should hear him.

Truth is Paramount.

God promised the people of Jerusalem that he would save the city from destruction
if they should find "a man that executeth judgment and seeketh the truth." Each of us in our individual capacity may be the saving power of all our associates.
"It behooves us to seek the truth, and, after learning it, to execute judgment in putting into effect that truth. As we approach Christmas time,
we are looking for the coming of him who will save the world."

EXCELLENT PROGRAM

The Adelphi-Athenaeum Literary Society's program at the High School yesterday morning was one of the best of the year. There was not a serious number on the entire program and the students showed their appreciation of it by their hearty laughter and applause. A quartet of the most famous "singers" of the country were present and rendered several beautiful
"Top" selections. The program lasted almost an hour.

TELEPHONE BOOK OUT SOON

The new telephone directory will be issued on the first of January and will contain the names of all the subscribers up until that time. The new book was to have come out on the first of November but as several changes were to be made in the numbering of phones and the managers feeling that a large number of new subscribers would be obtained before the first of the year it was decided to wait until that time before publishing the book.

ATTRACTIVE WINDOW

One of the most attractively decorated windows in the city is of the dining room of the McDonald Boarding House at the corner of East Third and Bridge streets. The window is decorated with a small Christmas tree and is very attractive. Persons passing can not help but see the tree.
At night varled colored electric lights
are hung in the tree making the scene
a very pretty one indeed.

GENERAL HOLIDAY MONDAY

Monday will be observed throughout the entire city as Christmas and many of the business houses will close in celebration of the birth of the Saviour.
All of the banks will be closed all day and the postoffice will be open only until 11 o'clock. One delivery of city mail will take place, but the same. All Union Barber Shops will close at noon.

HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

A meeting of the Mason County Medical Society was held yesterday in this city for the purpose of holding the annual election of officers. The following were chosen:

President—Dr. P. G. Snoot.
Vice President—Dr. Irvin Berry.
Secretary—Dr. G. L. Howard.

The next meeting of the society will be held in this city on March 30, with a "get together" banquet.

FOUR ADJOURNS

The Mason Circuit Court adjourned
yesterday afternoon until next Tuesday, January 2. It is not thought that the court will be in session long after reconvening.

Yesterday the court gave judgment for the plaintiff in the case of R. D.
Burgoyne vs. J. H. Pollitt, et al. for $650. The defendant entered a motion for a new trial immediately.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear.
There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation
can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are cured by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
